At the heart of this output is a set of digital and structured tools:

- E-Learning for Staff: Online training modules for teachers and mobility coordinators on topics such as intercultural communication, digital support strategies, and program logistics. Perfect for upskilling teams with limited time.
- Blended Student Mobilities Catalogue: A well-structured directory of international placements combining physical mobility with virtual learning: ideal for increasing reach while maintaining hands-on relevance.
- Professional Mobilities Catalogue: Curated opportunities for industry-based mobility, strengthening the link between VET and the labour market while bringing real-world input into your programmes.

This is not just about sending students abroad, it's about equipping the whole school ecosystem to better prepare, support, and follow up on mobility experiences, making them more impactful and accessible to all.

This output gives you the structure and flexibility you need to turn mobility into a smooth, scalable, and transformative part of your school's offer.

- Use the blended mobility model to offer flexible, lower-barrier options for students who cannot travel long-term
- Give learners pre-mobility digital training so they arrive more prepared and confident
